SOLEMN SERVICE ARMISTICE DAY

Legion Will Honor Unknown Dead With Brief Ceremony on Square.

RECEPTION IN EVENING

All Ex-Service Men And Their Mothers, Wives, Sisters And Daughters Will be Guests of Lentz Post.

As the nation pauses at noon Armistice Day, November 11, to pay tribute to America's unknown dead in the World War, The Albert Lentz Post of the American Legion will hold brief solemn services on the Center Square plot. All Gettysburg will be invited to attend this ceremony at which time Dr. J. B. Baker, pastor of the St. James Lutheran Church, will make an address. As requested in President Harding's proclamation, there will be a pause from 12 to 12:02 as a token of respect to the unknown dead. Arrangements for this ceremony which will start at 11:45, were made Friday evening at a special meeting of the Albert Lentz Post.

A prayer and a selection by the college quartet will complete the exercises. The services will not continue more than fifteen minutes.

Following the meeting, members of the committees of the Legion and the Woman's Auxiliary of the organization discussed plans for the evening event Armistice Day at which time the Lentz Post will give a reception to all ex-service men in the county and the wives, daughters, sisters and mothers of ex-service men. At this time it is expected the charter for the Woman's Auxiliary which has been applied for, will be here and the enrolling of members can be started. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of ex-service men are eligible to membership.

Committees Appointed

Elaborate plans were made for the reception and committees from the Legion and the Auxiliary appointed. The program will consist of three short addresses appropriate for an Armistice celebration and several vaudeville acts. The greater part of the evening will be given over to dancing with the College Serenaders furnishing the music. The Legion will serve refreshments to their guests.

Pastors on Program

The invocation and benediction at the evening program will be given by Rev. W. C. Robinson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, who is a Legion member. Rev. Mark Stock, pastor of the St. Francis Xavier Church, will speak on the subject, "The American Legion as a Community Asset," and Rev. Harry Daniels, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will speak on the topic, "The Woman's Auxiliary of the

MEDICAL BEER MAY BE DELAYED

Local Sufferers From Lack of Brew Annoyed by State-ments By Haynes.

Gettysburg sufferers from the lack of beer will have a reprieve when they learn that regardless of the Treasury order permitting the manufacture and sale of beer and wine, the ruling may not be carried into effect immediately. At least this was indicated by Prohibitionist Haynes.

Experts of the prohibition unit had raised the question as to whether, under the regulations which provide for the manufacture of medical beer under permit, the brewers would be permitted to dispose of stocks which had been manufactured prior to the promulgation of the new rules and had not been dealcoholized for beverage purposes. This question, he added, would probably be a matter for conference between the prohibition unit and the Treasury.

Secretary Mellon, however, has expressed the opinion that large quantities of beer which have not been dealcoholized were available in brewers' warehouses for medicinal purposes.

Senate Dries Seek Closure

Formal steps to prevent renewal of the Senate filibuster against the anti-beer bill were taken Friday by managers of the Willis-Campbell measure.

A petition for closure was drafted by Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, in charge of the bill, and soon had almost double the number of signatures necessary to invoke the rule, which would limit each senator's debating time to one hour. Signature of 16 Senators are required for presentation of such a petition and a two-thirds vote is required for adoption of a rule.

LARGE CROWD OFF TO DICKINSON

Gettysburg Goes to Carlisle Confident of Gridiron Victory.

In spite of the small turnout of students at the mass meeting held in Brua Chapel, Friday evening, a large number of backers accompanied the team to Carlisle where this afternoon Gettysburg meets Dickinson. At first the mass meeting looked as though the student body had deserted the team which lost to Muhlenburg last Saturday and this attitude on the part of the men was scored by all the speakers. Dickinson men are confident of victory and are offering odds of 10 to 8 on the outcome of the contest so a different kind of confidence must inspire Gettysburg in today's contest.

R. K. G. Rice, college cheerleader, in a straight from the shoulder talk told the students assembled of their shortcomings in former games and told them to support the team at Carlisle regardless of whether Gettysburg wins or losses. He gave as a reason the football men were not present at the meeting that the coaches wanted them to get a full night's rest and hoped the student body would be quiet in the dormitories after ten o'clock.

Then Dr. Frank Cramer was called upon and told the students of the former-spirit and traditions about Gettysburg and that if at all possible he hoped that some of that former spirit could be injected into the men for the Dickinson contest. He urged the men to follow the band before and after the game regardless of whether Gettysburg wins or not just to show spectators that the spirit is here.

Up to this time there had been no demonstrations on the part of the student body. Then the cheer leader distributed small megaphones to each of the students and urged them to go outside and call for the men who were not present at the meeting. This was done and brought a number from the dormitories. Speeches were called for from Dr. Milton Valentine and Dr. W. A. Granville after which it was decided to hold a snake dance around the streets.

From this point the meeting took on the aspect of former football mass meetings. Headed by the College band the co-eds and the male students paraded to the square where a brief demonstration was staged.

SIPPLE GUILTY IN FIRST DEGREE

Man Who Killed Two at Cly in 1919 Faces Electric Chair.

JURY TOOK FOUR BALLOTS

Verdict Received With Indifference by Defendant. Mother Unmoved as She Hears Son's Fate.

"Guilty of murder in the first degree."

That is the verdict returned by the York county jury which heard the testimony in the trial of Curtis Caleb Sipple, the Kentucky lad, charged with the murder of Gabriele Perrachia in a railroad shack at Cly, York county, on May 2, 1919, late at night, or early in the morning of May 13 of the same year. James Critchlow, an Englishman, was fatally wounded at the same time. He died about twenty-four hours after discovery of the horrible crime, in the York hospital.

The jury, after paying close attention to the charge of President Judge Nevin M. Wanner, retired at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and returned at 4 p. m. Two minutes later the return was properly entered on the record of the court.

But four ballots were taken by the jurors. On the first ballot there were nine jurors who voted for conviction of murder in the first degree, and three who voted for a verdict of murder in the second degree. On the succeeding ballots one juror voted with the majority as each was taken.

When Foreman Mitzel in open court announced the result to the court as "Guilty of murder in the first degree," and the usual question was asked if that was the verdict of each and every member of the jury, all jurors replied in the affirmative.

Attorney George S. Love, counsel for Sipple, evidently anticipated an adverse verdict, for it had hardly been entered when he offered a motion for a new trial, claiming the court erred in refusing to affirm, without qualification, one of seven points of law which he had presented for consideration.

The court stated "the motion may be marked filed," when Mr. Love offered another motion asking for a stay of judgment. The judge remarked, "Both motions may be marked filed." A third motion was offered asking that the court stenographer be directed to transcribe the notes of testimony and furnish the defendant with a copy of the same. This motion was also marked filed at the direction of the court. Sipple was then removed from the court room at 4:05 o'clock, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Jacob P. Fickes, who was his constant attendant during the trial.

Deputy Sheriff Fickes has been assigned by Sheriff Jonathan B. Gross to keep guard over Sipple every night until the prisoner is removed by legal

HIGH LEAVES FOR GAME

Meets Strong Harrisburg Academy In Capital City.

Coach Walter D. Reynolds and C. S. Flagg and eighteen members of Gettysburg High School team left Gettysburg at 7:30 this morning for Harrisburg, where they will meet the fast-going Harrisburg Academy team this afternoon. The squad is much handicapped with several cripples and the showing this afternoon will prove the real mettle of those in the scrimmage.

The work of the local squad during the past week has been very light, consisting of punting the ball and signal practice. Only seven regular varsity members have taken part in this week's scrimmages. The strength of the Harrisburg team is well-known here since this team defeated York High School last Saturday by the score of 13-0. With the showing that High School makes against Harrisburg today will give a good idea of the chance of defeating York, Thanksgiving day.

Those leaving with the team were: Captain H. Raymond, A. Buehler, J. Miller, C. Landis, C. Bream, G. Scharf, G. Bream, R. Miller, D. Oyler, H. Zinn, A. Musselman, J. Tennant, S. McKendrick, J. Weikert, W. Weikert, L. Hoppe and L. Taughnbaugh.

FOUR BANDS IN MONDAY'S PARADE

Much Interest in Hallowe'en Procession in Town And Country.

Everything is in readiness for the big Hallowe'en parade to move on Monday evening, those in charge have announced, and it is expected that the affair this year will overshadow those of former years for numbers in line, original costumes and fun makers. Interest is especially high in the outlying districts, and it is said, that Mount Joy township will send a delegation of its own to participate for the prizes offered.

Many prizes have been donated by the merchants of Gettysburg for the best decorated float, for the most comically dressed boy and girl, for the best disguised man or woman and for the best pony and horse teams, and the band officials announce that competition will run high for the offerings.

The parade, headed by John N. Shultz, chief marshal, is scheduled to start at eight o'clock, forming in the second block on Chambersburg street at 7:30. The line of march will be from Chambersburg street to Centre Square; then turning to the right on Baltimore street for two blocks and countermarching to the square; then on York street two blocks, countermarching to the Square and on Carlisle street two blocks and back to the oval, where the parade will disband.

There will be four bands in the parade, including the Citizen's Band, the College Band and Richard Thomas' Colored Band, of Gettysburg, and the Mt. Joy Community band, which will head the delegation from that section of the county. Immediately following the parade the judges will announce the prize winners in front of the Gas company office on Baltimore street.

Following the awarding of the prizes, a dance will be held by the Citizen's Band, which has charge of the festivities for the evening, in Xavier Hall and the masqueraders are expected to come to the dance masked. The hall will be appropriately decorated for the occasion with corn stalks, pumpkins and other Hallowe'en decorations. The College Serenaders have been secured to furnish music for the dancers.

TEAM LEAVES FOR GAME

Coaches Take Big Squad To Carlisle; Smith Out Of Game.

Coaches W. W. Wood and Harry Haines took twenty six stalwart football men to Carlisle today, leaving here at 11:30 this morning. Smith, the fast little quarterback, is out of the game with an infected arm and was not able to make the trip.

Many cars of students left during the morning hours and it is expected that there will be a creditable cheering section at Biddle Field, this afternoon, when the Orange and Blue will contest for football honors with the Red and White, of Dickinson.

The College Band under the leadership of John Daub left for the game at 12:30. The Band, together with the students who will attend the game will indulge in a parade on the streets of Carlisle before the game.

Those leaving with the team were: Keiser, Captain; Phillips, McDowell, Mordan, Davis, Slaughter, Hunter, Britsch, Brennenman, Emanuel, Gantz, Kyle, Weiser, Doran, Briggs, Wolfe, Gingerich, Guillard, Frock, Furhman, S. Gingerich, Althouse and Webber.

KICKER COLUMN

Is the Borough Council going to wait until some one falls and breaks a leg because of the high step at Middle and Baltimore streets before doing anything? For two months citizens have climbed over this barrier or walked around it. It would seem two months would be a long enough time to formulate plans to repair this "mistake." TAXPAYER.

Why is it someone cannot stop speeding on Gettysburg streets? For two years we have heard of plans to stop speeding, but to the best of my knowledge there has not been a single arrest made. If this matter of speeding was not such a serious menace to life, the efforts of the authorities to stop it would be laughable. A PARENT.

SPEAKERS PRAISE WORK OF WOMEN

E. V. Castleman And Dr. Charles Schaffer Tell of Missionary Society's Help.

AID AT HOME AND ABROAD

Services Friday Night Mark Close of Gettysburg Classis All-Day Convention Here.

At the closing services of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Gettysburg Classis, of the Reformed church, held Friday evening in Trinity Reformed church, the delegates from York, Adams and part of Franklin counties and a number of town people heard the addresses of E. V. Castleman and Dr. Charles E. Schaffer, of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, in which the work of women's missionary societies were praised.

The services were opened by a prayer by Mrs. Abner S. DeChant, president of the society, followed by a prayer lead by Marsby J. Roth, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Hanover and the singing of a hymn by those present.

E. V. Castleman was the first speaker and by the use of lantern slides entertained the meeting with a recounting of his work in the foreign mission fields. Mr. Castleman was sent by the Interchurch World Movement into the mission fields of Japan, China, India and Asia to procure the slides which he showed. The pictures were very entertaining and instructive and showed the various types of people and their customs in these different countries.

While explaining the types of civilization in these foreign countries, Mr. Castleman explained the needs existing among these lands in the way of Christianity and the need of missionary workers. He also spoke highly of the way in which the Woman's Missionary Societies throughout the United States had aided in the work in these mission fields of the Orient.

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schaffer spoke briefly. Dr. Schaffer is head of the Home Missionary Board of the Reformed church and a professor in the Seminary at Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster.

He reminded the society of their duties to the foreigners living in our own country and told in a brief way of the work which the Woman's Missionary Society has done among the Japanese of California, the Italians of Chicago, and elsewhere, and the Hungarians in Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.

"This work is highly commendable," said Dr. Schaffer, "and worthy of the interest and support of every member in the Reformed church today." And still further, he remarked, "that while the Jew in this country had a religion of his own from which it was almost Market Again Flooded But Price is Steady.

Truck loads of potatoes were offered for sale at the dull curb market this morning and many a bushel was hauled back to the bins. The price was steady at $1.50 and farmers declared if they were not worth that, it would be more profitable to store them.

York Imperials brought $2 a bushel while Staymen Winesaps sold for $3.50. The supply of apples was not large. Lettuce and pork products were plentiful. The buying generally was slow and there were marked indications that the curb market for the year is on the wane. Fifteen wagons and trucks lined the curb.

PAYS $100,000 FOR HALF ORCHARD

Large Fruit Farm Deal Made in Virginia. Trees Heavy Producers.

Probably the largest deal in apple orchard property made in Virginia in recent years was announced Friday when a deed was recorded transferring from Shirley Carter to State Senator Harry F. Byrd the former's one-half undivided interest in a tract of 231 acres, known as the Melvin Green fruit farm, one of the "show" orchards of the State.

Mr. Carter receives $100,000 for his one-half interest. Senator Byrd already owned the other half interest. This, added to his other orchard properties in Frederick, Clarke, Shenandoah and Rockingham counties, gives him approximately 1500 acres, containing 60,000 trees of leading commercial varieties, over half of which are of bearing age.

Largest Producing Orchards

His are probably the largest producing orchards in the State, and they are cultivated and managed by expert horticulturists. His total crop in 1920 amounted to 45,000 barrels, 26,000 barrels of which came from the 8,000 trees on the Green orchard, which are 18 years old and in prime condition.

Leader of Allied Forces Received Formally at White House.

Former President Wilson Unable to See Marshal. Physician Advises Call Would be Inadvisable.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 29.—President Harding, acting for the American people, today formally welcomed Marshal Foch to the United States.

The leader of the Allied armies in the final and victorious phase of the struggle against the forces of the Central Powers began a busy day in the nation's capital with a call at the White House to pay his respects to President Harding and to receive from the President a formal welcome.

Attended by a squadron of cavalry and accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand, the Marshal arrived at the White House at 10 o'clock. Crowds gathered along the driveway through the White House grounds and gave him a vociferous greeting. The President attended by his military and naval aides received the Marshal in the blue room. The President and Marshal Foch conversed with each other for some time, Ambassador Jusserand acting as interpreter.

The President tendered to the Marshal a warm welcome on behalf of the American people and told the military leader that France occupied a large place in the hearts of the people of the United States.

Leaving the White House Marshal Foch called on vice president Coolidge, who greeted the distinguished visitor as the man who saved both France and America. The vice president received the Marshal, his aides and party in the vice president's room off the senate chamber. Marshal Foch returned Mr. Coolidge's greeting with praise for the American army and its services in the war. Ambassador Jusserand again acted as interpreter.

After a visit to Secretary Hughes at the Department of State and a call at the office of the Secretary of War, the Marshal called at the home of former President Wilson. On reaching there, however, Brigadier General Connor, honorary aide to the Marshal, was told Mr. Wilson's physician had given instructions that it would be inadvisable to receive any visitor. The Marshal then sent in his card.

STOCK REPORT

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 29.—Trading during today's short stock market session consisted mainly of the week-end settlements of professional contracts. Rails were slightly depressed and further selling for profit in cheaper oils caused moderate reactions in that group. Among the more popular oils, notably Mexican petroleum and General Asphalt, pronounced strength was shown after early hesitation. Some of the independent steel shares improved on rumors of prospective consolidation and ship-pings and textiles also strengthened.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 300,000 shares. The bond market was steady, Victory notes continuing to move to new high records for the year.

ROADS CONTINUE PAY CUT FIGHT

Walkout Averted But Wages
And Freight Rates Must Drop.

BOARD AS ARBITRATOR

Petitions For Wage Reductions Will Be Posted to Men And Discussed.
Crisis For Present An Echo.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Railroads officially last night declared the nation's carriers would go right ahead with their plans to seek new wage cuts through Railroad Labor Board hearings despite the announcement from the unions that their action in calling off the strike scheduled for October 30 had been influenced by the Board's announcement that pay reduction petitions for any class would not be considered until working conditions for that class had been settled.

"The calling off of the strike will have no effect on the plans announced by the carriers October 14 to seek immediate wage reductions, so that rates could be reduced," said Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western and chairman of the Association of Western Railroad Executives.

"I don't know how long, under the board's ruling, it will take to reach a decision on any pay-cut petition, but these petitions undoubtedly will be presented within a very short time. It will be up to the board then to decide when action should be taken."

Will Seek New Cuts.
"I want it made plain, however, that we will seek these reductions in accordance with the law, posting notices of cuts, then discussing them with the employees, and, if no agreement is reached, appealing to the board to settle the dispute."

Mr. Felton's statements were echoed by Samuel Dunn, editor of Railway Age, who, in an address at a luncheon of the local railroad executives, declared that "the unions' action settles only one thing—that there will be no strike."

"It does not settle the question of further wage reductions or of rate reductions," he continued.

"The roads are going right ahead with the plans to get further pay cuts and thus reduce rates. But if the Interstate Commerce Commission reduces rates and the Labor Board refuses to reduce wages the roads will be in a disastrous condition."

With the code messages officially calling off the strike sent out yesterday, only one echo remained of the railroad crisis which for two weeks threatened to develop into a general rail strike. The situation was unchanged on the International and Great Northern, the Texas line, where 600 trainmen started a walkout last Saturday. No order to call off the strike was sent these men. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, saying that the matter "is in the hands of the union officials down there."

Confers With Board

Mr. Lee, however, conferred with the Labor Board yesterday, and it was known that he is making every effort to bring a settlement of that strike which will be satisfactory to the employees.

ROBBERY AT PEN MAR

Dynamite Safe At Park Amusement
Place.

Safe blowers at some time Wednesday night blew open the safe of William Libby, proprietor of the carousal and other amusement places at Pen Mar park. Discovery of the robbery and safe blowing was made on Thursday by detectives of the Western Maryland Railway company.

As few persons are now in the cottages at the mountain, and the majority of these are not near the Libby place, noise of the explosion was not heard and the persons got away with whatever was in the safe of value. The front of the safe was entirely blown off. Dynamite was used, as parts of sticks were found near.

Mr. Libby is now at his home in Philadelphia and until he is heard from there is no way of knowing what the contents of the safe included. Communication has been sent to him, and officers are now hunting the persons who committed the robbery.

CAPITAL GREET MARSHAL FOCH

French Hero Receives Wild Reception in Washington. Parade of Triumph.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The American Republic took Marshal Foch of France, soldier of soldiers of the great war, to its heart last night on his arrival in the national capital en route to Kansas City as the guest of his old comrades of the American Legion at their annual convention. He was greeted with wild cheers at the Union Station when his special train came in from New York and a roaring tribute followed him as he was whirled swiftly to the New Willard Hotel, where he spent the night.

The only ceremony that marked the conclusion of the great French soldier's first day in America was his formal induction at the station into the American Legion itself. He was made an honorary member of the George Washington Post, the national chapter of the Legion, some time ago, and last night Lieutenant Commander Fisk pinned on his breast the badge of membership as Marshal Foch stood in the President's waiting room at Union Station with General Pershing beside him, French and American officers and officials grouped about, boys of the American Legion packed outside the structure and thousands of Americans waiting in the concourse outside the station to cheer him as he emerged.

General Pershing hastened to Washington in advance of the Marshal arriving scarcely half an hour before the train bearing the French leader pulled in. He was met by high officers of the army and navy and of the French embassy and the State Department, and headed the group standing at the steps of the Marshal's private car when the French general stepped down.

SAYS RADIUM NOT CURE FOR CANCER

Burns Make Disease Worse
Than Before, Professor Contends.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—Cancer cases in this country are increasing with galloping speed. Cancer may be likened to a fire of unknown origin, liable to break out at unexpected places. Of late years it has begun to burn so furiously that it is now nearing the proportions of a conflagration. Leprosy in the Orient has at last a counterpart in the Occident in a disease that is equally loathsome, treacherous and terrible.

Under the aegis of the United States Government, reliable statistics have been compiled and their publication is not to spread alarm, but to lead up to some kind of explanation for the growth of this malady. The medical profession started to get scared 10 years ago over bacterial infection. Hence the many legislative enactments concerning individual drinking cups, towels, etc.

Diseases generally are supposed to be deterred by such drastic action. There is no doubt that bacterial diseases are. But not cancer.

A bulletin issued by the United States Public Health Service, tabulating deaths from the principal diseases in 1917 in the United States registration area, which represents 73 per cent of the total population, shows that tuberculosis, pneumonia, heart disease and diseases of the kidney claimed more victims than cancer. Recently published mortality statistics concerning Philadelphia put cancer in the second or third place, according to what the week's harvest of death may have been. Cancer is slowly climbing to the top of the list.

The total number of deaths from cancer, as reported in the national bulletin, was 90,000 in 1917, equal to 8.16 in 100,000 of the population, while in 1910 the proportion was only 62.9. The same bulletin affirms that cancer is not contagious, not hereditary and is not a blood disease.

Finding out what cancer is not is one stride toward the goal of a positive explanation for its growth. A Philadelphia chemist and microscopist, Prosper Auguste Maignen, thinks he has the explanation.

He says that cancer thrives in the same measure that surgery does. Surgeons believe that they are making progress, but the theory of Professor Maignen is that they are making more cancer cases by doing the very thing that generates cancer, the wounding and cutting of nerves. This is especially true, he says of the custom of operating on children for the removal of tonsils.

Professor Maignen has spent 40 years in the study of bacterial disease and 10 years he has devoted to the study of cancer, because he wanted to find the cancer germ. He now says that there is no cancer germ. He is the first man in the world to maintain that the surgeon's knife and X-rays have done much to increase cancer by making conditions favorable for its thriving. To cut or burn tissue, he says, is to invite cancer.

EVICTED FROM TEA ROOM

Calls Lawyer And Tells Him She Is Dying. Famous Ex-Dancer Is Expected to Recover.

New York, Oct. 29.—Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry Thaw and central figure in the two famous murder trials of the latter, attempted to end her life by taking 10 grains of morphine in her living quarters above her tea shop at 235 West Fifty-second street yesterday afternoon. Almost immediately she repented of her action and called her lawyer, notifying him of what she had done. A physician was hastily summoned and it was said she would recover.

Miss Nesbit had been facing eviction proceedings, which were instituted recently after her tea parlor here had been closed.

Unable To Raise Cash

The famous ex-dancer, who turned tearoom proprietor some months ago, after returning from Europe, where she resumed her maiden name, made the attempt on her life after laborers operating under directions of the county authorities had begun moving her furniture into the street.

When the officer presented his eviction papers and announced his intention of complying with their terms, Miss Nesbit fled sobbing from the tea room to her apartment adjoining and telephoned to her lawyer, beseeching his help to block the dispossession proceedings.

As the furniture was being moved into the street, hurried conversations over the telephone secured a few hours extension of time in which to pay overdue rents. But having got this far Miss Nesbit could get no farther. She failed to locate a single friend who was able or willing to advance the necessary cash.

Found Lying On Floor

As a last resort Miss Nesbit telegraphed to her mother in Philadelphia, and while waiting for a response to this message she called out to the county marshal that she had taken poison and expected to die within a few minutes.

After announcing what she had done Miss Nesbit said: "Now I don't care what you do."

Calling two waitresses to follow him, the Marshal ran upstairs, where he found Miss Nesbit lying on the floor. An ambulance arrived in a few minutes from a nearby hospital, and after antidotes had been administered, the ambulance surgeon left his patient, exacting from her a promise to walk up and down the length of her apartment supported on either side by the waitresses. This, the surgeon impressed upon her attendants, was to keep Miss Nesbit from lapsing into unconsciousness.

DOUGHNUTS AND LASSIE

Salvation Army Will Greet Legion
At Convention.

(By Associated Press)

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29.—"Come and get it, buddy."

This is the cry with which Salvation Army lassies will greet the veterans who attend the American Legion national convention here next week.

To the right and left of the street, as the veterans trudge by, will be doughnut dugouts bearing the nameplates of the Salvation Army.

A grand reunion of the doughnut and the lassie who will hand out doughnuts and hot coffee all during the convention served the boys overseas and are anxious to meet some of the buddies they knew over there. "Doughnuts, Coffee and Salvation—Free" is the banner that will greet delegates and visitors to the convention. The password will be a uniform or legion or service button.

SHOW AMERICA'S MAKING

New York, Oct. 29.—The contributions of every race of immigrants to the building of America was depicted in exhibitions today at the opening of "America's Making" exposition in the 71st Regiment Armory under the auspices of the State and City Departments of Education. Thirty-two racial groups co-operated in the exposition which was planned to help abate racial animosities aroused by the World War.

The exposition, which will continue until November 12, consists of exhibits showing by pictures, models and living figures the various industrial, artistic, scientific and historical contributions made to American civilization by immigrants and their descendants. Daily features will be pageants, concerts, tableaux and other living presentations of the story of the immigrant. School children who have been drilled for weeks will have an important part of this branch of the exposition.

BLANTON SORRY FOR WORDS USED

Action By Texan Applauded By Republicans And

Washington, Oct. 29.—An apology to the House, which attempted Thursday to expel him, was made today by Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat of Texas, in a letter to Speaker Gillett, read to his colleagues and warmly applauded—especially by Republicans.

The Texan, occupying the same seat from which he arose to defend himself against the charge that he had printed in the Congressional Record and obscene affidavit relating to a conversation between two printers, took no part in the brief discussion preceding the presentation of his apology.

The letter was sent to the Speaker and laid before the House of Representatives Walsh, Republican, Massachusetts, acting in the former's absence. It read:

Text Of Letter

"I am involved in no issue now before the House, hence what I now say is not a sacrifice of any principle."

"When I expressed a wish of being able to place before the country the record expunged I was misunderstood by my colleagues, who believed that I would circulate the objectionable language. My intention was not to do this, but to circulate the expunged record with all the objectionable words and abbreviations contained in the employee's affidavit eliminated and circulated only to show to the country the honest bona fide purpose of my remarks."

"I realize that the judgment of no human is infallible. I bow to the collective judgment of my colleagues, against none of whom I harbor malice, and offer this, my apology to the House for what my colleagues, in their decision, determined was an error."

FIGHT FOR STILLMAN BOYS

Decision Reserved on Mother's Petition to Be Made Guardian.

New York, Oct. 29.—Surrogate Colahan reserved decision yesterday on an application of Mrs. Anne J. Stillman, defendant in divorce proceedings instituted by James A. Stillman, to be made general guardian for their sons, James, 17, and Alexander, 11. Both sides were given a week to present briefs.

Opposing the application, Outbridge Horsey, of Stillman's counsel, said the father had wisely handled James' personal property of $157,310 yielding $11,855 a year and the $1999 in securities owned by the younger son. He denied the boys were specific beneficiaries under any trust funds and said their holdings were largely presents from their father and grandfather.

The up-State Court, in which the divorce action was filed, left it to the children to choose the parent with whom they would live, and both boys remained with the mother. Horsey, said, contending that for another Court to rule on the matter might cause conflicts.

Counsel for Mrs. Stillman, replying to Horsey's declaration that the father did not want the boys to squander their money and that Mrs. Stillman was inexperienced in business affairs, declared she was thoroughly equipped to care for their material, as well as physical, welfare.

Impossible to turn him, still the Jew appreciates all that the Woman's Missionary societies have done for him in our large cities such as New York, Philadelphia and Chicago."

He also praised the work of the Woman's Missionary society in the United States in investing $50,000 in small churches and congregations which were unable to support themselves. He also told of the money invested in mission work throughout the land. In conclusion, he told the society that it was through their efforts that deaconess homes for aged and indigent women of the church could be maintained and that this good work should continue.

At the close of the address, resolutions thanking the members of the Trinity Reformed congregation for their interest and support of the convention were presented and unanimously passed after which the convention decided that the next semi-annual meeting would be held in Emanuel's Reformed church, Hanover, next May.

"Do you have housing problems in Crimmon Gulch?" "No," replied Joe. "When the place gets overcrowded the boys become irritable and hostile to a degree that just naturally compels the surplus population to go somewhere else."—Washington Star.

WEAPONS STILL IN CASES

New York, Oct. 29.—Firearms that lay unused in the New York post office when automobile bandits held up and robbed a lone, unarmed mail truck driver of $1,454,129 last Monday night were yesterday in the persons of guards who accompanied similar treasure trucks through the city's streets.

Postmaster General Hays discovered, when he arrived to take charge of the investigation of the robbery, that guns bought to arm New York postal employees after a series of mail robberies in other cities, still were in their shipping cases. He ordered them unpacked and also ordered an investigation to determine who had been responsible for their non-delivery to employees.

Post office inspectors, increased in number to 15 after Hays' arrival, were bending every energy to unravel the tangled maze of clues leading to the hold-up men, and recapture their rich haul before they could dispose of it. Aided by scores of city detectives, inspectors were rapidly sifting the cases down to its essentials, and indicated arrests might be expected soon.

The house was crowded to the doors. Seven teachers were present.

Is This Worthy of Your Endorsement Your Support and Co-operation

You have without a doubt been thinking over the possibilities of what the Eagle Hotel Company proposes to do for the civic betterment of Gettysburg.

Now Mr. Citizen of this community, it is entirely up to you what aid and support you propose to give this company. The betterment of accommodations for the visitors and traveling public, who will, without a doubt journey to our borough, is bound to bring a profit to somebody. Do you want to share this profit? Do you want to be a shareholder and a personal supporter to your Gettysburg? Better accommodations are demanded. Better accommodations there will be.

We haven't the finances to make the proposed improvements to the present Eagle Hotel, so we formed a corporation, and we desire you as a member of this company. Conventions and different public gatherings that could have been held here, cast Gettysburg's location from their selection because our housing facilities were not adequate to the occasion. It does not take a wise man very long to ascertain the reason, and the reason reverts to the one thought "our housing facilities are not ample enough." Now, then, what is the cure? Remove the cause and you have the cure. This is what we want you to help us do—Give this new project your support; your financial aid and your full co-operation. Become a booster from this reading on.

Your security on your investment is assured by full ownership in the buildings, furnishings and improvements, which will be modern in every respect. The management and directorship will be chosen by the stockholders, from the stockholders—It will be your business from the beginning.

Have you ever had a business proposition as clean-cut placed before you? The matter is entirely in your hands. You have wanted it for several years; you wanted it because you felt you needed it, now it is within your grasp, and we feel that you will avail yourselves of the opportunity to become a member of the organization.

Remember, the Eagle Hotel is a well-known hotel. The name is established throughout this nation; so it cannot be classed as a new venture. It is paying a handsome return to the present management, but the profits are controlled at present by the inadequate facilities we have, so we are enlarging the facilities and you are going to profit by this enlargement. This is your opportunity to gain an interest in a growing business.

Every business at sometime throughout its career receives a certain amount of knocks and boosts. The Eagle Hotel has received its share of knocks, and is now entitled to its share of boosting. The last two years it has shown a marked improvement. Allow this improvement to continue. Become a booster. Put your shoulder to the wheel of advancement and give the Eagle Hotel your support. Gettysburg has shown a wonderful improvement during the last five years. Why not continue this movement?

New industries have sprung up in our midst employing our local people, and these industries are thriving and you want to improve everywhere it is possible. We need a new Hotel.

So far, this corporation is receiving wonderful support and we call on you, Mr. Businessman and Citizen to lend your aid.

You will have no excuse to offer yourself that you are unable to subscribe to this proposition because you have not the money, as we have so arranged the payments of 25 per cent on subscription, and the balance in four monthly payments, which will enable the smallest investor to obtain a share in THE EAGLE HOTEL.

Come into our office and look over the plans that have been drafted; have the proposition explained to you; look over the financial statements of the Eagle Hotel and what it has done the past year. After doing this, become a member of the organization. You will then be a booster and Gettysburg will have its newest addition.

FOOTBALL IS OLD CHINESE GAME

Has Been Traced Back to China 4618 Years Ago.

How many of the men on football grids now today over the United States know of the antiquity of the game they are playing? Football has been traced to be the oldest outdoor sport and makes baseball look like a youngster beside it.

Dr. Stewart Cullen, of the Brooklyn Institute Museum, is the man who has traced football back into China 4618 years ago. He says the Chinese played it with a round leather ball, stuffed with goat hair. Players wore silk clothes and, when tired, fanned themselves.

"Tz'uk Kuk" was what the Chinese called football.

The Greeks had a similar game, which somehow reached them from the Orient. So did the Romans. Ancient Eskimos played it with a moss-stuffed leather ball.

Cromwell was a football fan 200 years ago. Chaucer and Shakespeare saw the game and wrote delightfully about it. Time and again, English kings put the ban on the gridiron game, fearing it was undermining the game of archery, which developed bow-and-arrow experts for war.

The reason football originated in remote antiquity and was played by every important nation, is because it embodies nearly every branch of war tactics.

The big German drives during the World War were nothing but attempts to plunge through a line that held.

If the army exposes a flank, the enemy makes an end run.

As for artillery, it corresponds to forward passes.

When West Point plays football with Annapolis, it is a contest of military tactics between Army and Navy.

That baseball in America has taken the lead in popularity away from the older and military game, football, simply goes to show that normally we are not a military nation. It is a contest, the American public most admires headwork and minute skill—baseball.

RUTH HURT AGAIN

Bambino's Hand Again Infected. On Hunting Trip.

Babe Ruth cut short a shooting trip in Northern Pennsylvania to hurry in to town and have a carbuncle, that has developed on his right hand, lanced.

Then bandaged as to both his wings, for he still carries his left arm in a sling as a result of the operation during the world series, he hastened to Philadelphia to talk over his proposed vaudeville tour.

"I guess I'm out of luck this year," said the big hitter. "First my right knee goes bad, then I pull a muscle in my left leg. Both my props are gone. Then I skin my elbow and get poison in it and have to have it cut. Then I skin my leg and can't slide. Out in the woods I scratch my hand and it swells up so that I have to hurry home. I wouldn't care so much, but I had to miss those games in the series. I'll be all right in another week—unless I get mumps or something."

The Babe was willing to converse on the shooting of partridge, quail and rabbits, but he was silent on his differences with Judge Landis regarding his unlicensed barnstorming trip which he abandoned on Friday last. He refused to say what he means to do in the way of explanation and apology.

The vaudeville trip will open in Chicago, and at that time the big hitter may see the baseball commissioner and find out what his punishment is to be.

Bob Meusel, Bill Fiercy and Tom Sheehan, Ruth's companions in barnstorming, are home. They quit the day after their big star decided to come home and be good. They were looking for their share of the world's series money, but were disappointed, as Ed. Barrow, business manager of the Yankees told them the checks are being distributed from Chicago.

PLAYMATES IN HOSPITAL

Harrisburg School Boy Ran Over By Automobile.

Harrisburg, Oct. 29—Mrs. William A. Uher, 1603 1/2 Derry street Thursday drove her automobile to the Shimmell school building as the session adjourned to pick up her son Herman, and take him to the Harrisburg Hospital, where he is receiving daily treatment for a fractured arm, hurt in a fall last week.

William Miller, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Miller, 1715 Hunter street, jumped into the machine with them and was taken as far as his home. Mrs. Uher then went on to the hospital.

As a physician was completing the daily treatment of Herman's injury, a cot with a small figure in the center was carried by them. The child was William, who had been struck by an automobile a few minutes after Mrs. Uher had dropped him at his home.

Condition Is Critical

Two wheels of the car driven by Henry S. Foshacht, chauffeur for John E. Snyder, of Hershey, member of the Dauphin County Bar Association, passed over the child's body. Witnesses agree with Foshacht and Harry C. Hess, of Hershey, who was riding in the automobile, that the boy dashed off the pavement directly in front of the approaching car. Foshacht surrendered to the police immediately after the accident.

Hurricane In Pacific Causes Heavy Damage.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29—The Japanese steamship Fukui Maru sank 375 miles off Cape Flattery, Washington, at midnight Thursday night in a hurricane, but all her passengers and crew were picked up by the freighter West Ivan, according to a wireless message received by the Harbor Department here early yesterday morning. She was bound for Seattle from Kobe.

The West Ivan is westbound for Japan and will continue to the Orient, the wireless stated.

Had Few Passengers

No further details were received from the West Ivan. The Fukui Maru, of 3,087 tons, was built in Liverpool, in 1899. She was owned by the Yamashita Kashen Kaisha and has been on the trans-Pacific run for years.

WEEDING THE GARDEN

INDIA SEETHING WITH UNREST

Lutheran Missionary. Alumnus of Institutions Here. Writes Interestingly.

MISSIONS MAIN SUBJECT

Rev. Henry R. Spangler Says Brahmins Are Ringleaders on Movement Against Government.

Indian affairs as related to the efforts of the Christian missionaries and the methods of distributing tracts and portions of the Bible are interestingly discussed by Rev. Henry R. Spangler in the following letter. Rev. Spangler is serving in the Madras presidency in India, under the Foreign Mission Board of the United States of America. His home is in Spring Grove. It will be remembered that he gave a series of addresses in the churches of the county during his last furlough. His wife, a Miss Swartz, from near Spring Grove, accompanied him to India and now serves with him. The letter follows:

Political Pot Boiling
Narasaravpet, Guntur District, India, September 7, 1921—There is quite an abundance of news in India these days, but just what would interest the readers the writer is not so sure. There is news in this country that is of importance enough to receive front page publicity. The political situation is a boiling caldron with intermittent explosions. The writer doubts whether this hubbub would be of so much interest to the readers of this letter. There is too much disgusting misrepresentation of the motives and work of government, missions and all western institutions in this country to be particularly interesting. Probably it is not even necessary to bring this matter to the attention of my readers, as it is quite possible that they know a good deal about all these new nationalistic movements in these Eastern lands. The writer is, therefore, going to confine himself to the constructive work being done by missions, especially the work done in the mission of which he is a member.

The work of missions may be regarded under two comprehensive aspects—namely, intensive and extensive work. The former work may be described as a more thorough cultivation of the work already existing; the later as the pioneer work in fields as yet untouched. All our various agencies and institutions are engaged in this sort of work. The objective is to develop and cultivate the fields that have already been entered as well as open promising fields that have not yet been entered. The writer hopes in a series of letters to describe these various agencies, institutions and means that are being employed to bring the gospel to this and other lands.

Let us take into consideration, first, one of the agencies that is extensively used among missions. This department of work is the distribution of literature, known as colportage work. The writer does not claim that this branch of work is more important than any other, but it certainly ranks among the first agencies employed by the missions. It is probably the most far-reaching machinery for propaganda work that we have in the various missions. People that can hardly be reached in any other way may be approached in this fashion. There is almost no limit to the number of people that can be reached in this way as long as they are willing to buy. Even if people do not buy there is a way of getting literature into their hands. It is the custom of most missions to distribute literature free among the people who may not be able to buy, or because of prejudice may not be willing to buy. During the anniversary tours in both the Guntur and the Rajahmundry missions some years ago an inestimable amount of literature was disposed of, a good deal of which was sold. There was less of opposition then, originating from the Nationalistic Non-co-operation movement, than there is at the present time. Now it is rather difficult to dispose of much literature among non-Christian people, especially in the larger centers. The villages removed from the centers of keenest agitation are still open without any prejudice to the distribution of Christian literature. There is also a large field for useful work among the Christians of the country. Many among them are in great need of good Christian literature. A large number of them know the mere rudiments of the Christian religion, and therefore, afford a good field for intensive work. The Christian community has more people who are able to read than any other community except the Brahmins, hence there is a great opportunity to sell books and tracts. The Brahmins will not buy because they are sworn enemies of Christianity. The recent Nationalistic movement has intensified this opposition, as the Brahmins are the ringleaders of the movement against the government and all things foreign. In some towns and villages of this country to attempt to sell Christian literature would be to invite violence and ridicule to oneself. All phases of Christian work have now become very difficult among non-Christian classes.

COAL PICKER KILLED

Mount Carmel, Pa., Oct. 29—While picking coal in an old shirehole, formerly used as an entrance to the Green Ridge mines, Antonio Ceseri, 12, was caught under falling rock and instantly killed. The lad's back was broken.

The fatality was witnessed by several boy companions. It was his custom to visit the shireholes for coal in order to economize in coal expenditure for his parents. It was after he had picked half a bag of loose coal that the accident occurred while he was exploring the interior of the subterranean passage.

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

Greatest American of His Time, Says Harding.

President Harding's Special Train in Georgia, Oct. 29—A tribute to Theodore Roosevelt as "the greatest American of his time," was written by President Harding Thursday on the flyleaf of a volume autographed by the Colonel nine years ago.

The book, a copy of Roosevelt's "winning of the west" belongs to G. H. Smith, the engineer who brought the Presidential special into Atlanta Thursday. He sent it to the President's private car with a book mark at the flyleaf, on which are scrawled: "T. G. Smith, with all good wishes. Theodore Roosevelt, September 28, 1912."

It came back with this added: "Gladly seconding the good wishes of the greatest American of his time" "Warren G. Harding, October 27, 1921, the anniversary of Roosevelt's birth."

order from the custody of the sheriff of York county. A day watch will also be kept.

The law provides the imposition of the death penalty on a conviction of murder in the first degree. If this sentence is finally executed it will mean that the Kentuckian will go to his death in the electric chair. Should he be put to death in this manner he will be the first prisoner from York county to so die, all others sentenced for like crime being hanged, according to the law in vogue at that time. The electrocutions are made at Rockview Penitentiary, Bellefonte.

Not Unnerved by Verdict

The prisoner displayed no emotion when the verdict was returned. He maintained the same stoical demeanor that has marked his conduct during the trial of the case. After the verdict was entered he coolly took his seat, seemingly not fully appreciating the seriousness of his position.

The prisoner's mother, Mrs. Susie Sipple, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who came here to testify in behalf of her son, was in the court room when the verdict was received. She did not betray any unusual emotion.

HURRICANE LOSS FIVE MILLIONS

Death Toll as Result of Storm Eleven. Gale of 100 Miles An Hour.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 29.—Definite reports from all portions of the Florida peninsula swept by the tropical storm of Tuesday put the total losses in the neighborhood of $5,000,000, of which between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 represents the loss in Tampa and suburbs, which bore the brunt of the hurricane.

Damage was done by wind over a fifty-mile-wide path to fruit, truck crops and buildings, while this and other coast cities suffered severely from floods due to the torrential rains and high tides which accompanied the storm. The loss of life remained at eleven yesterday—five in this city, two at St. Petersburg, and four members of the crew of the yacht Kona wrecked at Mayport.

St. Petersburg Loss $500,000

The loss at St. Petersburg, was placed yesterday at $500,000, the greater part of which was along the water front. Street car service there, demoralized since Tuesday, was resumed today. All piers in that city were swept away.

The loss at Tarpon Springs, Clearwater and other towns facing on the bay was reported as less than that at St. Petersburg and consisted of damage to buildings and other property by wind and water and injury to fruit. Punta Rassa, just north of Tarpon Springs, suffered severely, the gale there attaining 100 miles an hour, as compared with the 60-mile-an-hour velocity reached over other portions of the storm area.

Steamers Damaged By Gale

The ports along the west coast today reported arrival of steamers showing the effects of the gale. So far as has been ascertained here the only craft which failed to outride the storm was the Kona, which was wrecked on the jetties at the mouth of the St. Johns river.

A BLOW TO BLONDES

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Are you a blonde? If so, you aren't beautiful, you can't be so. Professor Frederick Starr, head of the department of anthropology in the University of Chicago, says so.

What's more, you collar-ad Adonises haven't a show, either; your delicately molded nose, for example, cannot compare with the ringed nose of an Ethiopian.

WOMAN CAUSED DEATHS

Tremont, Pa., Oct. 29.—After a quarrel, yesterday afternoon, over a pretty woman, David Miller, a prominent resident of Tremont, was shot and killed by Charles Wolf, who then killed himself.

Mrs. Mary Dagestine, wife of an Italian miner, but an American by birth, is said to be the innocent cause of the dispute between Miller and Wolf, both of whom are married and have large families.

Miller was in Mrs. Dagestine's home when Wolf arrived. Only one shot was required to end their argument, and Miller fell dead. Wolf then went out on the front porch of the little home and took his own life.

Miller, 48 years old, leaves a wife and six children. Wolf, 26 years old, leaves a wife and three children. The men were apparently on the best of terms before the shooting. The woman in the case is under 30 years, is attractive, and has lived in Tremont only a short time.

TO CUT RATE ON COAL

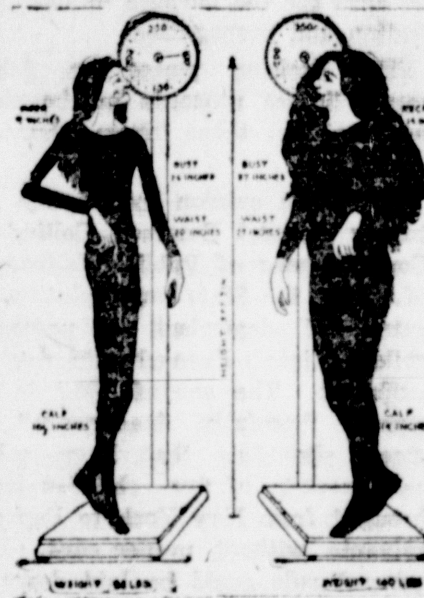

Washington, Oct. 29.—Freight rates on anthracite and bituminous coal are to be reduced within two weeks, it was learned from unofficial sources yesterday.

The reduction will come not through a decree of the Interstate Commerce Commission but through voluntary action of the big carriers, with the Pennsylvania and the Reading Railroads acting as leaders.

A program of other cuts to be made within six months that will affect profoundly the cost of living is expected. Building materials and foodstuffs will be included.

LICENSE FUND IS CONTINUOUS

Revenue From Fisherman Cannot Revert to State, Says Ruling.

Money paid to the State Department of Fisheries as its share of the proceeds of the State fishermen's license act, which becomes effective next year, will remain to the credit of that department until expended and not revert to the State Treasury at the end of the appropriation year, according to an opinion given to Commissioner Nathan R. Buller by Attorney General W. I. Swoope. The department will receive annually $400,000 from the license funds, and this will constitute what is known as a "continuing fund," which is to be used for the purpose of fish protection and propagation.

The decision places the fishermen's license proceeds in the same position as those from hunters' licenses.

Under an opinion by Deputy Attorney General Emerson Collins to Commissioner of Public Welfare J. M. Bady the State laws relative to entry of dependent or neglected children into Pennsylvania are insufficient. The act of 1917 is declared "woefully inadequate" to meet situations that have arisen as a result of five children being brought from New York to Pennsylvania without proper care. No general rule could be laid down as to how the department could enforce the act, says Mr. Collins, who holds a bond, should be required and urges that the department should take steps to have the act corrected by the next Legislature. The law, he closes, should be made more effective both as to guard against such children being brought here from other states, and to insure their proper care when so brought.

As a result of the opinion the subject will likely be brought before the advisory board of the Department of Welfare when it meets in Harrisburg next Monday to discuss appointments and policies.

PLANKS ARE DIET OF PLANT PESTS

Brown University Specialist Studies Wood Eating Bugs And Insects.

(By Associated Press)

Providence, R. I., Oct. 29—Five plant pests that live on diet of three inch planks have been segregated by Professor Walter H. Snell, of the Botany Department at Brown University, in the course of a special investigation of the causes of rot in the roots of New England weaver sheds.

The plants are being carefully nurtured at the Brown University Laboratory on their favorite varieties of lumber. They are saprophytes, the scientific name for plant vegetarians, and their most vicious member is called Lenzites sepiaria.

The fungi's choice of weaver sheds, large one story buildings with sawtooth roofs in the cotton mills where yarns are woven, has been found to be not entirely by accident. Cotton yarn handles best when it is damp. For that reason humidors artificially supply humidity in the weaver sheds and in so doing, make the weaver shed a cozy incubator for the fungi.

The roof, usually built of three-inch planks, makes an excellent condenser. The moisture of the air not only forms in minute drops on the under side of the roof, but thoroughly permeates the planking. That, it has been found, is exactly what Lenzites sepiaria wants. He, and his family of fungi, secrete juices which dissolve the wood.

Certain woods seem to be naturally antiseptic—woods that are heavy and resinous, like Southern pine, or the red-wood family. For some reason, at present undetermined, Lenzites does not like them. But they are expensive. The common New England woods can be made unpalatable for Lenzites by impregnating them with coal tar creosote or sodium fluoride. Unfortunately coal tar creosote is oily and has an untidy habit of dripping on the cotton cloth below while sodium fluoride is very expensive.

Dr. Snell reports that he is working on a method of roof construction that will cut down roof-dampness and allow creosote to be used without danger of dripping on the looms below. If successful, his investigations may mean a large saving in roof replacements to mill owners.

WOMEN OF LEGION WILL ORGANIZE

First National Sessions of Auxiliary Will Be Held in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29—While the men who made America's army and navy during the world war are occupied here next week with the third national convention of the American Legion, wives, sisters, mothers, and sweethearts of many of these same men expect to be busy with a convention of their own—the first national convention of the women's auxiliary of the American Legion.

Indications are that, while the women's convention will not be as large as the men's, it will have quite as many matters to engage its members.

Its principal purpose is to perfect organization of the auxiliary. It will also select a definite and official name. Some members favor calling it by its present title—the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. Others are in favor of designating the organization as "The Women of the American Legion."

Qualifications for membership are expected to be drawn up, policies outlined, and national officers elected.

The women's organization owes much of its strength to the work of Miss Pauline Curnick, national organizer and director, Legion officials say. She will preside at the opening session of the women's convention Tuesday morning, Nov. 1.

The Rev. Dr. Burris A. Jenkins of this city will give the invocation, National Commander John G. Emery will then open the convention, and Admiral Beatty, who was made an earl of the British realm for the part he played in the battle of Jutland, and Lieut. Gen. Baron Jacques of Belgium will speak. The convention will adjourn at noon to give the women an opportunity to watch the Legion parade. A dinner in honor of Lady Beatty, the British admiral's American wife, for Mrs. John G. Emery, wife of the national commander of the Legion, and other distinguished women guests will be given that evening.

Wednesday will be devoted to business. General Pershing and Marshal Foch are expected to greet the women that morning, however, in very brief speeches. Late in the afternoon, if the convention committee's schedule is carried out, the convention will adjourn sine die for tea at the Women's City Club.

Mrs. R. B. Teachener, whose two sons served in France, has been chairman in charge of plans for the convention.

In the Morning, In the Evening He's Out for Fun

Five days a week it seems he is always "going to" or "coming from" school. Of course it just seems that way because that is when it's most likely for something to happen to his clothes. But we can't expect a boy to be pent up all day and then act like a banker; he has to have his play. And here are clothes that will stand a lot of use; even abuse.
